Music Ministry Minutes

“He who sings, prays twice”

As Music Director, this week I'm giving a giant shout out to all the members of the OLBS Music Ministry! Throughout the pandemic, church closure and many, many adaptations and changes to our normal routines, Adult and Youth Choir members and the cantors kept our ministry going with hardly a hiccup. We sang outdoors, virtually, and inside, masked and spaced apart. I know I speak for Msgr Hynes and Father Stefano when I thank our Music Ministry members for their patience, their enthusiasm, their flexibility, and their time and talent, during Covid, now, and in the future.

Catechesis Corner

A parent is a child's first and most impactful teacher. It is not just those teachable moments we have with our children each day, whether it is counting how many blue cars they see on a road trip, how to spell the street names in our neighborhood, how to properly assemble a "somemore" or how to ride a bike. Actually, it is what we model to our children that speaks much louder to them than our voices. Think about it, what if we sign up our children to be part of our Faith Formation/Religious Ed Ministry and then we drop them off and pick them up for classes but never attend weekly Mass together? Our words, and the words of the catechists, speak of the importance of Mass attendance, especially as a family, but our actions, or in this case, inactions, scream much louder. Believe me, I am a mother and I know it is hard, with busy, busy schedules all around, but our faith, God and His Word, the love of Jesus, the Mass, are and need to be so much more important than anything else. In creating time each week to sit together with our families and share our faith, song and prayers, we are teaching our children Jesus is the way, the truth and the life and He is with us always, walks with us, guides us and loves us through whatever lies ahead. What a beautiful message to share and to model!

We are still in need of catechists, especially for our Tuesday afternoon classes (3:45-4:45). Please pray about this and come join us. Our children need you! Training is provided and we will be most grateful for your gift of time and talent!
